SECTIONAL INSULATED GARAGE DOORS

Our sectional garage door offers the convenience of remote operation, allowing effortless opening and closing with the press of a button. Built-in anti-trap finger guards and advanced detection technology ensure peace of mind by retracting the door if an obstacle is detected.

The space-saving design maximises driveway utilisation, retracting vertically without protruding. Twin rollers with durable bearing-mounted wheels and solid steel shaft connections guarantee smooth and quiet operation. Our steel track systems, 20% thicker than most competitors, prevent twisting and ensure years of trouble-free use.

Additionally, you can choose from various glazing styles, frames, and colours to suit any home exterior. Our automation systems are thoroughly tested and backed by TUV certification, ensuring reliability and safety.

FULLY INSULATED AND ECO FRIENDLY

The minimum thickness of a Birkdale double-skinned sectional panel is 40mm, giving superb thermal and insulation qualities.

With a fire rated foam core and superior build-quality, Birkdale sectional doors are very strong and secure, providing outstanding security characteristics.

For that extra level of insulation, consider our full door seal system, ensuring drafts and water ingress is something that you don't have to worry about.
